Exam Tips

1. Start the mock exams one month before the exam

Take 2 mock exams per week on average till the exam date to simulate the real one. Time yourself strictly and keep the distraction away. Review the questions especially the topics you are unfamiliar with. In addition, take one-week block leave before the exam date which can help you focus on the exam.

2. Read the questions first and then the vignette

Read the first question and look for the answer in the vignette, so on and so forth. The answers will appear roughly in the order of questions. If you read the long vignette first, you could easily forget what it is talking about when you come to the questions

3. Set the calculator to display 4 decimal places and bring long-sleeve clothes to the exam venue

The choices of the calculation questions can be very close sometimes, so 4 decimal places are good enough to distinguish among them without occupying the display too much. The exam venue can be cold due to the air conditioning, so bring one more clothes can reduce the uncertainty on your performance
